Enriching Girls' Lives Through Golf in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware

FALL 2025

Inside the Ropes at the ShopRite LPGA Classic

First Tee - Jersey Shore joined WGGB's grantee network a few years ago in support of girls-only clinics at the William Larkin Golf Course at Colonial Terrace in Ocean Township, NJ, and the First Tee/JR Smith Learning Center at Ocean County Park. This year, the Jersey Shore chapter introduced a Players Program and WGGB was thrilled to expand our support of girls' golf in New Jersey by providing grants to both the Clinic and Players Programs.

In addition to engaging clinics, competitive tournaments, and leadership training, the chapter has been a dedicated volunteer partner for the ShopRite LPGA Classic Presented by Acer for more than eight years. They have assisted with the Junior Golf Show, organized a Girls Golf clinic, and provided volunteers for roles such as standard bearers and marshals.

This year's indisputable highlight was getting the opportunity to volunteer on the practice range, distributing practice balls, placing name placards, and maintaining the short game areas. This unique "inside the ropes" position allowed the girls to interact with and observe the warm-up routines of some of the best players in the world like Nelly Korda, Jeeno Thitikul, Lexi Thompson, Brooke Henderson and Jin Young Ko. Two young volunteers are shown above helping LPGA Pro Natalie Gulbis get ready to warm up. They also met Meaghan Francella and Junior All-American Gianna Clemente.

WGGB is thrilled to support the girl golfers and eLeaders at First Tee - Jersey Shore and to see them thrive and learn through these unique experiences.

Three WGGB Grantees Named J. Wood Platt Scholars

Women Golfers Give Back is proud to share that three of our grantees have been awarded scholarships from the J. Wood Platt Caddie Scholarship Trust, one of the most respected scholarship programs in golf.

Founded in 1958 by the Golf Association of Philadelphia, the Trust honors Philadelphia's premier golfer of the era, J. Wood Platt, who was also its co-founder and first contributor. In the last 60+ years, more than 4,000 young men and women have received over $28 million in scholarships to support college tuition and housing.

This year, WGGB grantees among the recipients include:

- Charli Jones (Walnut Lane Golf Club) – A rising junior at Howard University, Charli has been involved with First Tee - Greater Philadelphia for more than 10 years and has participated in WGGB's Merion outings.
- Emily Mayo (Wilmington Country Club) – An incoming Penn State freshman and First Tee - Delaware grantee, Emily was featured in our 2024 newsletter for her caddying experience with the Chairman of the 2022 BMW Championship and his BMW Pro-Am group with Rory McIlroy.
- Caitlyn Plover (Whitemarsh Valley Country Club) – Headed to Loyola University this fall, Caitlyn first joined WGGB's Girls Golf Clinics at age seven, and by 12, she had created the idea for a Girls' Golf Tournament and Fashion Show, which became an annual fundraising event for First Tee - Greater Philadelphia and a lasting legacy of her leadership.

We congratulate Charli, Emily, and Caitlyn for this recognition and look forward to following their continued success on and off the course.

Some of WGGB's youngest grantees—perhaps future names on the Platt Scholars list...

Letter From WGGB President

Dear friends of WGGB,

Thank you for your continued commitment to Women Golfers Give Back. It is an honor to provide girls the experience of golf — something made possible by your support.

WGGB's mission to enrich girls' lives through golf is simple yet powerful. Every initiative we undertake provides access to programs that teach golf skills, foster connection, and build leadership and character in girls who might not otherwise have the opportunity.

Thanks to our community's shared purpose, WGGB has granted $2.5 million to girls' golf programs over the past 22 years. In 2025, we recorded our largest giving year to date, awarding $180,000 to 8 players programs, 10 clinic programs, and 2 scholarships. These achievements belong to all of us — and especially to you.

Our Annual Tournament is the primary driver of our grantmaking. Held at St. Davids Golf Club in Wayne, PA, on June 16, it raised over $140,000 this year. Please save June 29, 2026, for next year's tournament at Whitmarsh Valley Country Club.

We are deeply grateful to our coaches, volunteers, community partners, and donors for their generosity and dedication. Each of you advances our mission in meaningful ways. A few highlights of support this year include:

- The Umbrella Foundation, for choosing WGGB as your 2025 charity partner and mobilizing members to give so generously
- Golf Galaxy and DICK'S Sporting Goods, for continued grants and use of facilities for our girls' winter practice
- Sara Campbell Boutique of Wayne, PA, and manager Sue Morrison, for hosting biannual shopping events
- Allen Gray of Silvercrest Asset Management Group, Get Golf Ready sponsor, for supporting our professional women's event
- Tavistock Country Club and Bidermann Golf Club, for hosting Member Guest Day fundraisers on our behalf

In 2025, we also welcomed Isabella DiLisio to our Board and Grantee Committee. A Strategic Advisor in Employee Health & Benefits at Marsh McLennan Agency, Izzy is a WGGB alumna from Mount Saint Joseph Academy and a former University of Notre Dame golfer. She continues to compete — recently qualifying for the 2025 USGA Mid-Am — while building her career and giving back to the game.

Among my most meaningful moments this year, I had the privilege of presenting alumna Emily Mayo of First Tee-Delaware with a Platt Evans Scholarship, a full housing and tuition award for golf caddies. Emily's excellence as a caddie at Wilmington Country Club and as a student at Archmere Academy reflects the character and drive WGGB strives to inspire. We are proud of Emily and excited to see her thrive at Penn State.

Looking ahead, we're excited to determine our 2026 grants, expand partnerships, and launch a new brand and website. With your continued support, we can make an even greater impact.

I invite you to stay involved—through volunteering, financial contributions, or sharing our mission. Together, we're changing girls' lives through golf.

Warm regards,

Nicoll Keeney,
President, Women Golfers Give Back

Driving Confidence: Empowering Women On and Off the Course

In July, Women Golfers Give Back hosted our 5th annual Get Golf Ready Clinic and Networking Event at Gulph Mills Golf Club, proudly sponsored by Silvercrest Asset Management Group. The event brought together more than 50 women eager to build confidence and sharpen their golf skills—tools that not only prepare them for their next work outing but also open doors to the many professional benefits golf provides.

Participants rotated through three stations—golf etiquette, putting, and chipping—each led by inspiring women in golf. Special thanks go to Gulph Mills golf pro Beatrice Smith, Board Member and former WGGB grantee Isabella DiLisio, and longtime volunteer Ellie Good for sharing their expertise and running the stations.

The evening continued with a reception and a special keynote from Karen Kaufman, MSOD—executive coach, entrepreneur, and author of Magic: Making a Good Impression Count On and Off the Golf Course—who shared actionable insights drawn from her expertise in leadership, relationship-building, and golf. Her inspiring message encouraged participants to lead with confidence and live authentically. Each guest also received a copy of her book.

We are deeply grateful to Gulph Mills Golf Club for hosting this meaningful event, and to Outside the Cut for capturing the day's memorable moments through photography.

We look forward to welcoming even more women to our next Get Golf Ready event—whether you're new to the game or looking to strengthen your skills, it's a wonderful way to learn, connect, and grow both on and off the course. Watch for updates about our upcoming Spring 2026 Get Golf Ready event.

A Season to Remember for LPGA-USGA Girls Golf of Valley Forge

BY SUSAN TALL
BOARD MEMBER, LPGA-USGA GIRLS GOLF OF VALLEY FORGE

What a season it's been for Girls Golf of Valley Forge! Our clinics for girls 7-18 years old have been full of energy, growth, and fun. This season, we scheduled 60 clinics. Each week, we host sessions for beginners in three age groups—7-9, 10-13, and 14-17—along with an “on the course” play clinic for experienced players. Each hour-long clinic welcomes 20+ girls who rotate through putting, chipping, and swing mechanics. In addition, there are occasional contests for Closest to the Hole and Inside the Ring! With three pros instructing each week, our 1:7 teaching ratio ensures every girl gets focused attention. Lead pro Tony DeGisi has been with the program from the very beginning. Even on the hottest days, Spring Ford's giant sycamore tree provided the perfect shady spot for all the girls to gather!

The demand has taken us by surprise—every clinic has sold out, with waiting lists forming each week. To support this growth, we purchased new clubs in multiple lengths, which players can rent at a very modest price. Each player has the ability to exchange their clubs as they go through the typical growth spurts.

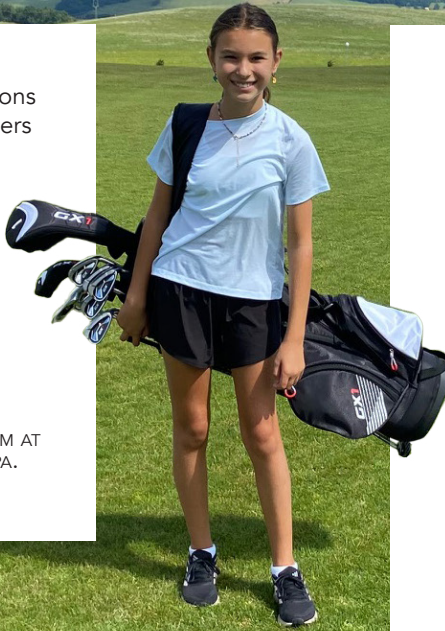

We are so grateful to Women Golfers Give Back for funding professional teaching fees, clinic polo shirts, and snacks. Without their generous assistance we would not be able to host such a wonderful experience for young women golfers. A special thank you also goes to Spring Ford Country Club for donating 3 hours of Practice Range time each week and access to their putting and chipping practice areas. We have been blessed to have such great partners!

In Their Own Words

Being able to get in competitive situations during matches with other PGA Jr. players helps how I play and get to learn from others. Being able to get out on the course even for 30 minutes gives me the opportunity to try different strategies to see which one works best for me. I even got the chance to get to play in Europe this year and meet new people!

— Anna Strollo, Age 11

PARTICIPANT IN A WGGB-FUNDED CLINIC PROGRAM AT MAKEFIELD HIGHLANDS GOLF CLUB IN YARDLEY, PA.

Women Golfers Give Back's support has been instrumental in our daughter's growth as a person, not just in golf. Fostering life skills, personal development, honesty, respect for others, and sportsmanship are just a few values she is learning from golf. She is honing her social skills by playing with peers and coaches, and learning about the integrity of honest score keeping. Joe Garstka and Howard Hirsh have been amazing coaches and mentors to all the kids involved, making it fun as well as a learning experience. We couldn't be more grateful for all the support you provide. Thank you and please continue to support this worthy cause.

— Jana and Gregory Strollo

Breaking Records, Broadening Our Impact

WGGB was thrilled to grant a record $180,000 this year to golf programs that will support hundreds of girls!! Thank you to the generous support of our donors, sponsors and friends for making this possible.

In 2025, we also welcomed five new grantees. First Tee - Jersey Shore and First Tee - Greater Philadelphia launched Players Programs with WGGB's support.

We've also expanded further into the Lehigh Valley and Western PA by providing grants to two new Clinic Programs through Girls Golf Lehigh Valley, Girls Golf of Western Lehigh Valley and the Women's Golf Association of Western Pennsylvania. And we are thrilled to support the empowHERed scholarship helping introduce women and girls to golf.

2025 WGGB Girls Clinic & Fundraising Tournament

Women Golfers Give Back was thrilled to host another successful Girls Clinic & Fundraising Tournament at St. Davids Golf Club in June 2025. With the help of our sponsors, volunteers, participants and supporters, it was a special day helping WGGB raise funds for next year's girls golf grantee programs. Shout out to all who braved the rain throughout the day to support our mission and the hundreds of girls given exposure to golf through our grants!!

The day started with a clinic for our younger grantees with LPGA and PGA pros, and a 7-hole competition for our older grantees. See photos of the girls in action and 7-hole tournament participants by scanning the QR code below.

After lunch, WGGB sponsors and supporters competed in a one best-ball tournament followed by cocktails and dinner. They each posed with Isabella DiLisio on a par 3 – a WGGB program alumna turned college golfer and now the newest WGGB board member!

Congratulations to the 2025 WGGB Tournament Winners

RISING TOGETHER Young Golfers Compete, Connect, and Grow

For the past several years, WGGB grants have supported the Peggy Kirk Bell Girls Golf Tour's six-event series with more than 80 girls playing from the Mid-Atlantic area, as well as helped enable 8 girls from PA, NJ, DE and KY compete as Team National in PKBT Linville Cup at Mid Pines.

Led by coaches Jackie Rogowicz and Leila Mackie, Linville Cup weekend was filled with laughs, new friendships, competitive spirit, and incredible golf. Team National bonded over team-building challenges and brought their A-game on the course.

Match Play highlights included: Ryland Portadin & Rosie Patterson dominated with a 4&2 win during the first session; Valerie Danby & Trisha Lobo clutched the last two holes to halve their match during the second session; and strong finish with three match wins led by stellar performances from Ryland & Rosie, Athena Lin & Grace Soale, and Meredith Finger & Alaina Carson.

Beyond the close competition, the girls gained valuable lessons on teamwork, communication, course management, and perseverance. The weekend wrapped up with inspiring words from Robert Linville and a panel of coaches sharing their wisdom.

This group played with joy, grit, and camaraderie—and no doubt, will go on to do great things!

Celebrating the 2025 Philadelphia PGA Junior Tour Diversity Scholars

PGA REACH Philadelphia recently announced the recipients of the 2025 Philadelphia PGA Junior Tour Diversity Scholarship, a program that promotes greater diversity in golf by providing memberships, tournament entries, and PGA Professional mentorship.

We're especially excited to recognize Skylar Crutchfield, age 8, from First Tee – Greater Philadelphia. Many of you may remember Skylar as our putting contest ringer at the June WGGB fundraising tournament. Despite her young age, Skylar has already made her mark in the game, advancing to the Regional Drive, Chip & Putt competition in 2024.

She is joined in this year's scholarship class by more young female golfers: Finley Campbell (West Chester, Pa.), Elizabeth George (South Abington Township, Pa.), and Rogan Knapp (Williamstown, N.J.).

This year's program is supported by Women Golfers Give Back and the Valley Forge Tourism & Convention Board, with golf equipment provided by the Philadelphia Cricket Club's 1854 Foundation.

Upon receiving this year's WGGB grant, Courtney Curcio, PGA REACH Philadelphia Director, shared:

"I just wanted to send a big thank you for your support this season! We're so grateful to be one of the programs receiving a grant, and it truly means a lot to us. Your generosity is making a real impact, and we can't wait to put it to good use helping more girls get involved in the game."

We're proud to support these young golfers and can't wait to watch their continued growth on and off the course.

Teeing Up Confidence and Connection at Oakmont

One of Women Golfers Give Back's new grantees in 2025 is the Women's Golf Association of Western Pennsylvania (WGAWP). The organization applied for a grant to support Junior Girls Golf Clinic scholarships for girls from underserved communities who lack access to private instruction and demonstrate financial need.

Founded in 1922, WGAWP promotes the best interests and true spirit of the game while governing competitions for its 600 members across 38 clubs. For junior girls, WGAWP provides mentoring, instruction, and opportunities to compete.

WGAWP's Carol Semple Thompson Junior Girls Golf Clinic creates an inclusive and welcoming environment for approximately 88–90 girls ages 5–17 from the Pittsburgh area. The goal is to introduce girls to golf, register them on GHIN, and build long-term relationships that connect them to WGAWP Junior Amateur competitions. The clinic emphasizes a safe, engaging setting where participants not only build athletic skills but also gain life lessons and friendships.

Held at Oakmont Country Club for the past decade, the clinic features 12–15 PGA professionals and certified coaches, including Carol Semple Thompson herself, one of the most celebrated amateur golfers of all time. In partnership with the local First Tee program and area schools, WGAWP provides scholarships to girls who cannot afford the clinic fee and WGGB was proud to support those scholarships in 2025.

Annie VanZant, president of PA Golf, reflected on the experience: "The girls enjoyed the instruction, being at Oakmont just weeks before the U.S. Open, seeing all the tents and excitement, experiencing the history and tradition inside the clubhouse—along with lots of smiles and giggles."

WGAWP Vice President Katie Miller Gee shared a similar sentiment, "The day was an incredible success. Everything ran perfectly, and the response from both the girls and their parents was overwhelmingly positive. Many shared how meaningful it was to have an opportunity like this made possible through your generosity. My favorite note came from a mom who said, 'Addi texted me during the event asking, when is this over? Because I don't want it to end!'"

Mentorship in Motion at Merion Golf Club

Our Top Players Program grantees showcased impressive skills on the course—from swing to finish, they nailed it—but it was their uplifting support for one another that truly stood out at this year's Mentor Day Outing at Merion Golf Club.

A heartfelt thank you to the amazing women of Merion Golf Club for mentoring our players through the West Course, and to the Merion caddies who guided our top finishers on the final hole at the iconic East Course.

HOW I GOT INTO GOLF & WHERE I AM NOW

My Mom-Mom got me interested in golf when I was around 7 years old. Since then I've always loved the study and work of golf and learned any way I could from coaching to watching others play. I joined First Tee younger which helped me learn more golf skills and play with other kids my age.

As I have grown up, I keep going with my love of the sport and have even continued it all the way to high school by playing on the golf team for my school. I was able to play on the high school golf team as an 8th grader last year and I look forward to joining the golf team again as a 9th grader.

Now the reasons why I got into golf are many, such as the feeling of getting the ball into the hole, the new and fun people who turn into friends by sharing the interest of golf, and realizing this isn't much of a common sport for females of my age.

I am still a part of the First Tee program and have been taking some private lessons to improve my game with Coach Becky Dengler. In the Spring, I will try out for my high school golf team and hopefully once again join their team. I look forward to honing my skills, improving my golf score, and continuing my love for the sport of golf.

Celebrating Our Volunteers at Intown Golf Club

In January, Women Golfers Give Back proudly hosted a Volunteer Appreciation Night at the beautiful new Intown Golf Club, a members-only social club for golfers in Radnor, PA. With more than 50 guests, the evening was filled with gratitude, camaraderie, and celebration as we honored the dedicated individuals who make our mission possible and welcomed new volunteers.

The event gave our volunteers the chance to reunite and connect with one another while taking advantage of the exclusive opportunity to experience Intown's state-of-the-art golf simulators, adding fun and a little swing practice to the night.

WGGB showcased the incredible impact made possible through our volunteers' commitment—from supporting local golf programs to creating new opportunities for young girls to learn, grow, and thrive through the game of golf.

Our volunteers contribute in many ways throughout the year. Some serve as day-of-event volunteers, giving their time and energy to ensure events like our Annual Tournament and Girls Clinic run smoothly and successfully. Others provide their support through ongoing roles on committees—from development to grantee program management to governance.

This event was not only a chance to say thank you but also the perfect way to kick off 2025. As we look ahead, we're eager to welcome even more helping hands into our volunteer community. Stay tuned for details on our 2026 Volunteer Appreciation Event! We'll be sharing more information on our website and social media in the months ahead.

Thank you to Intown Golf Club for hosting this event and Outside the Cut for capturing the memories!

As a junior golf advocate and proprietor in the industry, along with being a First Tee board member and coach, let me express my gratitude for the opportunities provided by Women Golfers Give Back, and specifically the grant you generously provided to First Tee - Lehigh Valley and Berks to allow us to offer Manor Golf Club's Girls on the Green program to girl golfers.

We had a wonderful turnout of 22 girls this year. We're not only teaching them basic golf skills, but we're also using the teaching process to intertwine First Tee's five key commitments to being a Game Changer - pursuing goals, growing through challenge, collaborating with others, building a positive self-identity, and using good judgment - that will allow them to be strong, healthy young women, both physically and mentally. The broader program also incorporates lessons from a certified nutritionist and yoga to enhance their fitness skills.

On behalf of First Tee - Lehigh Valley and Berks and all the young ladies whose lives you have helped to impact in a most positive way, thank you!

Cheryl Heckman, Owner of Manor Golf Club
Certified Coach and Board Member, First Tee - Lehigh Valley & Berks
